TO THOSE AFFLICTED WITH DISEASED LUNGS. -Justice to my much esteemed friend and physician, (Dr. Fitch.) and the benefit I have derived through his instrumentality, enables me to say to those afflicted in like manner, don't despair .-Health (after our reason,) is most desirable, and, like other blessings, is the gift of God; but He works by instruments in granting it. Dr. F., I believe, is one of those M. D.'s; and with reverence to God, I say I believe if his (Dr. F.'s) prescriptions were carried out entirely, DISKASED Lungs would be scarce. I know this is wading in deep water; physician's opinions are generally against me; the people's opinions, gotten second hand from the M. D.'s, are also. But I speak from a feeling sense and experience of what has already been done for me, and justice to Dr. F. demands I should say, if I do not get well, it is not his fault but my own. Dr. F. is also a regular physician; together with over 25 years experience in this disease, both in this country and in Europe, enables him to say that eight out of ten cases can be cured, where the constitution is not entirely broken down. Before doubting this, I beg you to read his (F.'s) Lectures on Consumption, to be had at 707 Broadway, New York, and if your prejudices are not too strong, you will be convinced. I have been under different eminent physicians, and thank them for their kindness to and care for me. No doubt they done the best they knew. The popular patent medicines of the of the afflicted.
